

Little Fiends Tabloid

Issue 8, September 2006

Not to long ago, at Little Fiend headquarters, Hortensia the Mexican Fiend threw a temper tantrum because she felt she was long overdue for some exposure in the tabloid. She claimed Drunken Princess and Selma the Mexican Fiend were “trash mag hogs”. Hortensia demanded an upcoming issue be dedicated to her and she had no intention of sharing it with anyone! So here she is folks, our little diva, takes on Seattle, Wa.

“Is this building made out of Play-Doh?”

Hortensia visits Frank Gehry’s Experience Music Project.

“Yoo-whoo, here I am at the top of the Space Needle. I wonder why they don’t offer bungee jumping?”

Shortly after climbing on the merchandise, Hortensia was escorted from the Space Needle gift shop.

Hortensia’s favorite things to do during her Seattle trip...

1. Bite the anles of the border guards.
2. Eat a big-ass burger at Fat Burger.
3. Hang off the miniature space needle models in the gift shop and roar like King Kong.
4. Visit The Coastal Kitchen restuarant.
5. Schmancy toy store. Check it out.. www.shmancytoys.com

The Coastal Kitchen serves the best damn spicy hasbrowns in the city.

“This must be a meeting point for fellow monsters!”

[Editor’s note: This is actually the sign for the women’s washroom in the Science Fiction Museum.]

Shhh... Don’t tell Hortensia but...

Our friend Liz is traveling across Canada, to Europe and then returning home to Australia and she brought along Drunken Princess. Check out her online photo gallery at: <http://littlefiends.livejournal.com/>

Sign-up to receive the “Little Fiends Tabloid”.